Community Relations Commission City of Goshen, Indiana

Annual Report – 2015

Mission

To foster a climate of positive community relationships and non-discrimination in which all Goshen citizens enjoy equal opportunity for education, employment, access to public conveniences, accommodations and real property.

Origin and Background

The Community Relations Commission (CRC) was created by Ordinance 4201, “An Ordinance Creating the Goshen Community Relations Commission and Prescribing the Powers and Duties of the Commission,” adopted by the Common Council on April 13, 2004. Goshen was the 23rd Indiana city to establish a human/community relations commission. Mayor Allan Kauffman convened the first meeting on August 17, 2004.

CRC Principles

- Respect for each other and respect for each other’s rights
- Open communication and engagement
- Honesty
- A safe community
- Acceptance that change has positive and negative consequences
- Tolerance of differences
- Support for equality and freedom from discrimination

CRC Activity in 2015

Latino Neighborhood Outreach: In January the Commission approved a funding agreement for a joint effort between Bienvenido Community Solutions and LaCasa, Inc. to increase Latino participation in neighborhood associations. The initial effort focuses on the Historic South Side, Community of East Goshen, West Goshen, Rieth Park, and Chamberlain Neighborhoods.

Sundown Resolution: Following 5 months of discussion and editing in collaboration with authors Dan Shenk and Lee Roy Berry, community members and City Council members, the CRC voted unanimously in March to approve the Resolution and recommend it to the City Council.

Taste of Goshen: May First Friday: In May the Commission expanded its' annual Taste of Goshen to include musical performances in addition to the popular food offerings. Dos Hermanos, the Dean's List, and Los Ortega provided entertainment in Ignition Garage while hundreds of people enjoyed food offerings from cultures represented in Goshen's population. These included Palestinian, Korean, Mexican, El Salvadoran, Bolivian, Ukrainian, and Indonesian as well as an international tea tasting sponsored by Honey's.

Vision 2025: Darin Short, consultant to the CRC, led data gathering through surveys and small group dialogues. This process completed in 2015 with 862 total surveys submitted, and approximately 150 participants in 16 small group dialogues. David Lind, professor of sociology at Goshen College along with recent graduate Twila Albrecht provided analysis of the data gathered in a report submitted to Council members late in 2015. Steering Committee used this report in crafting the following Vision statement, adopted by the CRC in December:

Goshen is a vibrant and dynamic community. Together we strive to

- Strengthen our social and economic resources.
- Promote vitality, safety, and wholeness.
- Engage, embrace and celebrate our cultural commonalities and differences.
- Address challenges to our common good.

There is a lot of effort and content packed into these 5 lines; the Commission wishes to extend gratitude to those who served on the Steering Committee (listed below) as well as those who participated in any part of the process. The process of uncovering the vision was valuable as it allowed the CRC to more deeply engage with a broad cross section of the community.

Neighbor to Neighbor Mediation: In December the Commission awarded $500 to LaCasa for use in paying for mediation in disputes arising in neighborhood settings. This is a 6-month pilot program headed by LaCasa’s neighborhood outreach coordinator Jose Elizalde. Unspent funds, if any will be returned at the end of the grant period.

Other items of note:

- Darin Short presented on Goshen’s Sundown Resolution process to the Indiana Consortium of State and Local Human Rights Agencies Conference in June.
- The Commission was involved in discussions around extending civil rights protections to the LGBT community by City Council ordinance, included understanding the legal role of the Community Relations Commission.
- The CRC continues to recognize the need for greater awareness of its presence, and began developing a marketing strategy in August.
- Commissioners held a retreat in November to develop a timeline of next steps in adopting and pursuing the Vision 2025.
- Revised the Memorandum of Understanding with Darin Short to more accurately reflect expected duties, and provide objective measures for evaluation.
- Nathan Mateer Rempel, CRC chair presented on the Vision 2025 process at LaCasa’s annual neighborhood leadership brunch.

Upcoming Initiatives

Diversity Events: The CRC is continuing with its expanded role with Downtown Goshen for First Friday events this coming May. The May event is branded as ‘Taste of Goshen’ after the CRC’s annual event. In addition to our usual tent featuring a variety of ethnic foods, we are sponsoring musical performances, as well as sharing the newly minted Vision with the community

Continuation of Community Project Support from CRC: In the past the CRC has made monies available for community projects or initiatives particularly where those projects interact with our Mission, Vision, and Principles.

Goshen Vision 2025: While we develop methods of publicizing the Vision in the community, we are working to prioritize elements of the Vision that most directly intersect with our Mission and Strategic plan.

Incidence and Prevalence of Discrimination

The CRC is mandated (Ordinance 4201) to receive and process complaints of discrimination related to employment, real estate, education, public accommodation and credit on the basis of race, religion, color, sex, disability, national origin, ancestry, and familial status. Monitoring the frequency, trends and nature of complaints is an assessment of the extent of discrimination, thus identifying needs for education and community building.

The primary tool for receiving information about discrimination is a private and confidential phone reporting/recording or email system advertised on the CRC website.

Results

The Commission received no calls or emails related to specific incidents of discrimination in 2014. We did receive calls related to issues between tenant and landlords, and wrongful termination, and other miscellaneous inquiries that we were able to forward to the appropriate offices. In addition we received one report of racist graffiti in a public park and one report of possible discrimination related to access to voting. The graffiti was abated. In vetting the complaint of discrimination with local attorney Felipe Merino, it was determined that the voting access issue was one of poll worker training and not of discrimination.

- Monthly on the second Tuesday of each month at 7:00 P.M.
